

Scottish Collections Access Management Portal

A Staff Portal to Support Collaborative Collecting

George Macgregor, Researcher, CDLR

What is SCAMP?

- Some answers:
  - ◆ Scottish Collections Access Management Portal
  - ◆ Embryonic portal aimed at supporting collaborative collection management in Scotland
  - ◆ Genesis in SCONE; Launched Sept. 2001
  - ◆ Under continuous development & adapting to developments in the Scottish Cooperative Infrastructure (SCI) facilitated by SPEIR and other projects

Development Threads

- Digital collections:
  - ◆ Scottish Distributed Digital Library, CCM facilities to support
    - Free internet resources; Digitisation; Commercial packages; Born digital material (esp. course materials)
- Non-digital or mixed:
  - ◆ RCO based collaborations
  - ◆ A National strategy for Scottish material

Why Collaborate?

- Users increasingly use and need distributed resources and finding tools, so co-operation is now essential as well as desirable
- Distributed networked collections need collaborative management
- Coherent distributed virtual 'libraries' won't just happen – we must co-operate to manage retrieval and user environments
- Institutional and other boundaries are becoming a barrier to providing what users need

SCAMP Services

- Two main strands:
  - ◆ Adding to and maintaining collection descriptions and collection strengths databases
  - ◆ Facilities to support staff engaged in collaborative collection management in Scotland

Database Maintenance

- Collection Descriptions – feeding into SCONE & collection level resource discovery and collaborative collecting
- Collection Strengths – Based on Conspectus & supporting Landscaping facility in CAIRNS and RCO and collaborative collecting
